Asylum magazine is a forum for free debate, open to anyone with an interest in psychiatry or mental health. We especially welcome contributions from service users or ex-users (or survivors), carers, and frontline psychiatric or mental health workers (anonymously, if you wish). The magazine is not for profit and run by a collective of unpaid volunteers.

'I love Asylum mag. It helps me cope with my job and inspires me to work in a different way.' – Mental Health Nurse

'Asylum has consistently provided a welcoming forum, sometimes the only one, where the voice of survivor activists can find a fair hearing. It is, and has always been, an important resource for anyone interested in radically changing the mental health system.' – Peter Campbell, veteran survivor activist

'An original and indispensable resource for teaching, research and activism in the growing field of Mad Studies' – Kathryn Church, Director, School of Disability Studies, Ryerson University, Canada

We are encouraging new organisational subscriptions with a discount of 35%. We also offer even greater discounts to charitable organisations. Bulk orders at discounted rate. Please contact admin@pccs-books.co.uk for more information.
